

WGL Friends Quarterly Newsletter

v. 1, no. 3, September 2010

I especially want to thank the geologists, geophysicists, and geotechnical consultants who have sent copies of their 2010 publications to the Washington Geology Library. Operating without a budget means no journal subscriptions and no current full-text, online articles can be purchased for the library, making the library an archive instead of an ever-expanding collection.

A huge thank-you to WWU for continuing to have their graduate students mail copies of their Washington geology theses to the library.

Another big thank-you to Dr. Joseph Hull, Division of Science and Mathematics, Seattle Central Community College, for his donation of five National Association of Geoscience Teachers (Pacific Northwest Section) field trip guidebooks to Yakima, Bellingham, Bellevue, Portland, and Spokane.

These donations help to keep the Washington Geology Library current, useful and optimistic.

Lee Walkling, Librarian

2010 Silent Rock Auction

The annual Combined Fund Drive (CFD) event, the Washington Geology Library Silent Rock Auction, will be held October 14, 2010, 8:00 AM to 3:00 PM in the Geology Library, NRB Building, Room 173.

If you have crystals, minerals, volcanic debris, or any other unique rocks to donate to the 2010 auction, they will be gladly accepted. Customarily, the identifying bid tag gives the name and location of the rock, along with the name of the person who donated it. After the auction, donors are informed of the amount of money raised by their donation, for tax purposes. Contact Lee Walkling (360) 902-1473 or stop by the Library if you have a donation.

THANKS to Tom Herman for his donation of polished agates and jasper.

THANKS to Spencer Seymour for his donation of calcite, heulandite and pyrite.

THANKS to Patrick C. for his recent donations.
